

New Mexico At A Glance

The "Land of Enchantment" is not only home to Army Reserve transportation assets — it also has several quartermaster units in Artesia and Kirtland Air Force Base that provide supplies, materiel management, distribution, procurement and field services to support and sustain Soldiers, units and their equipment in peace and war.

"Best of the best" was how one Army Reserve leader described Sgt. Damian Robinson of the 356th when he was named the 2014 Noncommissioned Officer of the Year during his command's four-day Best Warrior Competition. Warrior Citizens like Robinson are vital to the Army Reserve's mission to provide trained, equipped and ready Soldiers and cohesive units to meet the nation's requirements at home and abroad.

The 491st Area Support Medical Company, headquartered in Santa Fe, combines critical civilian and military medical expertise in dentistry, optometry, behavioral sciences and laboratory sciences.

Transportation units such as the 356th Transportation Company of Las Cruces are the backbone of the Army's support and sustainment structure, moving supplies, troops and equipment anywhere in the world. Also key are the Army Reserve trailer transfer point units stationed in Silver City, Santa Fe and Las Cruces, whose mission it is to receive, store and transfer cargo to units in need.
