

POLITICAL ACTIVITIES ON SOCIAL MEDIA

Federal civilian employees* and military personnel may use private or unofficial social media to express certain personal opinions (e.g., post, like, share, tweet, or retweet) on public issues or political candidates, but there are a few limitations.

WHEN IN DOUBT,
CONSULT SJA.

- ▶▶ The individual may not be on duty or in the federal workplace.
- ▶▶ The individual may not refer to his or her official title or positions while engaged in political activity at any time.
- ▶▶ The individual may not solicit, accept, or receive political contributions at any time.
- ▶▶ The individual's use of social media must comply with applicable federal law and regulation, including the Hatch Act, UCMJ, and DoD Directive 1344.10.

*"Further Restricted" civilian employees (e.g. members of the Senior Executive Service and employees of intelligence agencies) may not take an active part in partisan political management or campaigning.

Sources: Guidance on Political Activity and DoD Support 2018; Department of Defense Directive 1344.10; U.S. Office of Special Counsel guidance on the Hatch Act; U.S. Army Reserve Command Office of the Staff Judge Advocate